WEB DEVELOPMENT

Dear Hiring Manager / Team

I would like to work as a web developer for your team. I have been designing websites for years, and I know how to use many design programs as well as HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I like to turn clues into code and create amazing virtual worlds.

After years of working in various professions and web design roles have equipped me with the ability to work in a fast-paced environment, multi-task, and collaborate with cross-functional teams. I create beautiful, engaging websites to improve usability and appeal and deliver ideas and information to the audience.

My skills include a strong grasp of front-end design in HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript, with the ability to design attractive and easy-to-use user interfaces. In addition, I have back-end development skills in Python and Java programming. I am a problem solver who loves to take on new challenges and come up with creative solutions.

I think my qualifications are well suited for the Web Developer position given my background and skill set. Additionally, I also think that this is a place and opportunity for creativity and technology. I look forward to being part of your web development team and working together to develop exciting websites and applications!

Sincerely,

Awa Lin
